2011-12 SEASON NOTES

YOUTH MOVEMENT The average age of the three players the Hornets received from the Clippers in the December 14th trade (Al-Farouq Aminu, Eric Gordon and Chris Kaman) was 24 years old.

- Aminu (21) was the fourth-youngest player in the entire NBA last season.
- The Hornets have three rookies on the roster and four more players who had less than 82 games of NBA experience entering the season...in fact, the Hornets ranked 3rd in the NBA in least average experience with only 3.2 seasons of service per player coming into the year.
- New Orleans currently has just four players on the squad with more than four full years of NBA experience (Trevor Ariza, Jarrett Jack, Chris Kaman, Emeka Okafor).

FLASH GORDON Acquiring Eric Gordon in the trade for Chris Paul solidified the Hornets with one of the NBA's best shooting guards and the most prolific shooting guard to wear a Hornets uniform since Glen Rice. The 22-year old has made quite the impression on the league entering his fourth season, below are some bullet points on "The Commissioner".

- Quickly made a good impression on his new team by hitting the game-winning jumper with 4.2 seconds left to seal a one point victory for the Hornets in Phoenix 12/26.
- Became the first Hornet to score 20 points in his debut since the team moved to New Orleans in 2002.
- Gordon let the team in scoring (20) and assists (3) in his debut and made 9 of 12 two point field goals in a team-high 39 minutes.
- Finished last season as the NBA's 13th highest scorer, the second-youngest in that group (Blake Griffin was eight months younger).
- Led the Clippers last season in scoring 30 times, assists 15 times, steals 18 times and minutes 25 times.
- Finished last season ranked 12th in the NBA in minutes per game.
- Averaged career highs in points (22.3), rebounds (2.9), assists (4.4), steals (1.27) and minutes (37.7) in 2010-11.
- Has connected on an average of 119 three pointers a season in his first three NBA seasons.

GETTING TO KNOW KAMAN: Chris Kaman spent eight seasons with the Clippers, the second-most tenure in franchise history...below are some of his career highlights.

- Led the Clippers in scoring (18.5) and rebounds (9.3) in 2009-10.
- Named to first NBA All-Star team in 2009-10, tallied four points and three rebounds in 11 minutes.
- Named Western Conference Player of the Week twice during the 2009-10 season (1/10/10 and 11/9/09).
- Participated in the 2008 Summer Olympics in Beijing as a member of the German National Team due to his great-grandparents heritage.
- Averaged a team-high 12.7 rebounds per game and 2.77 blocks per game (3rd in NBA) during a breakout 2007-08 season.
- Ranked 9th in the NBA in rebounds (9.6) during the 2005-06 season.
- Participated in the NBA All-Rookie game in 2004.
- Named Mid-American Conference Player of the Year and Defensive Player of the Year his final season (junior) at Central Michigan.

GETTING TO KNOW THE CHIEF: Al-Farouq Aminu, or "Chief" as some people like to call him since his first name means "the chief has arrived" in Nigerian, is a 21-year old small forward with much promise...below are some career highlights from the fourth-youngest player in the NBA last year.

- 8th overall pick by the Clippers in the 2010 NBA Draft out of Wake Forest, the highest draft pick out of Wake since Chris Paul (4th, 2006)
- Honorable mention AP All-American and Second Team All-ACC his final season (sophomore) at Wake
- Led Demon Deacons in scoring, rebounding and blocks his sophomore year
- First Wake player since Tim Duncan (1997) to lead the ACC in rebounding his sophomore season
- Freshman All-American by the Sporting News and ACC All-Freshman team member
- Older brother, Alade was a 2010 D-League All Star and played briefly for the Miami HEAT last season.
- 2008 McDonald's All American and played in the Jordan Brand Classic.

GETTING TO KNOW EJ: Eric Gordon Jr., or "EJ" as many people like to call him as accumulated a lot of honors in his young career...below are some career highlights for the shooting guard.

- Member of TEAM USA in the 2010 FIBA World Championships in Istanbul, Turkey, helping the USA win gold (9-0 record) by averaging 8.6 pts
- T-Mobile Western Conference Rookie of the Month (January 2010)
- All-Star Weekend T-Mobile Rookie Challenge Participant (2009 and 2010)
- All-Star Weekend Slam Dunk Participant (2010)
- Named Second Team All-Rookie and finished fifth in NBA Rookie of the Year voting for 2008-09 season.
- Earned Second Team All-America honors from the NABC and Third Team honors from the AP in his lone season at Indiana University
- Named Big Ten Freshman of the Year and First Team All-Conference
- Set Indiana and Big Ten freshman record for total points scored (669), breaking the old mark held by Michael Redd in 1998.
- A McDonald's All-American, Indiana Gatorade Player of the Year and a Jordan Brand All-American out of North Central High School in Indianapolis
- Named Indiana Mr. Basketball as a senior after averaging 29 points, 6.2 rebounds and 3.3 assists in his senior year of high school.
- Attended the Adidas Basketball Experience in New Orleans his senior year of high school at the Alario Center.

BEE-FENSE Through four games this season, the Hornets are again showcasing the stellar defense displayed a year ago.

- The Hornets have held each of their first four opponents under 100 points this season and rank 2nd in the NBA in opponent points allowed per game (87.8)...the Bees also rank 3rd in opponent field goal percentage at (40.1%).
- Against Boston 12/28, the Hornets held the Celtics to 37.2% shooting (29-78) from the field, the second opponent in two games that they held under 40%...Boston was held under 80 points (78) for the game...the Bees held nine opponents under 80 points in 2010-11 and were 9-0 in those games...New Orleans held their first two opponents under 90 points, something the team did 28 times last year, yielding a record of 25-3...Hornets players blocked 12 Celtic shots, more than in any game from a season ago (most in 2010-11 was 11 at CHI 3/7/11), and only three off the franchise record of 15 set 12/12/92 vs. DEN.
- In Phoenix 12/26, the Suns were held under 40% shooting (32-81, 39.5%) as well as 5-25 (20%) from distance...the Hornets ranked 13th and 12th respectively in the two opponent shooting percentage categories a season ago...the Hornets forced 15 turnovers including nine steals, leading to 15 points...those numbers were right in line with the 14.54 opponent turnovers per game and 16.37 points off of those miscues that New Orleans averaged last season...the Suns were held to 84 points after scoring over 100 in each of the four meetings between the two clubs in 2010-11.

CLEANING THE GLASS New Orleans ranks first in the NBA in rebounds per game (53.0), offensive rebounds per game (17.5) and is tied for second in defensive rebounds per game (35.5).

- Emeka Okafor leads the team at 10.8 rebounds per game, while Carl Landry is grabbing an impressive 4.5 offensive boards per outing.
- 1/1 at SAC, Chris Kaman came off the bench and grabbed 15 rebounds in just 27 minutes of play.

SABOR INTERNACIONAL = INTERNATIONAL FLAVOR The two newest members of the Hornets roster, Gustavo Ayon and Greivis Vasquez, from Mexico and Venezuela respectively, are each the third player in NBA history from their home country.

- Ayón joins Haracio Llamas (Phoenix Suns, 1996-98) and Eduardo Najera (currently with the Charlotte Bobcats) as the only Mexican born players.
- Vasquez, a rookie last season, joined Carl Herrera (1991-96) and Oscar Torres (2001-03) as the only Venezuelan-born players.
- Marco Belinelli (Italy) is the only other foreign-born player on the Hornets roster, the sixth player born on the Apennine Peninsula to make the NBA.
- Chris Kaman, though American, holds dual U.S.-German citizenship and participated with the German national team this past summer in the European Championships.

NEW FACES There were nine players on the opening day roster who were not members of the team in 2010-11. In the season opener, five players made their debut wearing the creole blue, and in the first home game on 12/28 vs. BOS, two more Hornets were newly-minted.

- Al-Farouq Aminu, Eric Gordon, Carldeell Johnson, Chris Kaman and Greivis Vasquez all appeared in their first game as Hornets 12/26 at PHX.
- For 'Squeaky' Johnson, a New Orleans native, the game also marked his NBA debut....Johnson made his debut at the Hive two days later on 12/28 vs. BOS, connecting on a technical free throw to an ovation from his hometown crowd.
- With two minutes played 12/28 vs. BOS, Trey Johnson also officially joined the Hornets all-time roster, playing in his 13th career game in the NBA with his fourth team over three seasons.
- On January 1st, 2012, with 2:03 to play in the game, Gustavo Ayon stepped foot on the court, officially becoming the third Mexican born NBA player in league history.

OKAFOR DOUBLES-UP Emeka Okafor has reached a double-double the last two games, with a season-high 16 rebounds and 10 points 12/30 vs. PHX and 12 rebounds and 13 points 1/1 at SAC.

- Okafor is now averaging a double-double for the season (10 points and 10.8 rebounds).
- The season-high 16 rebounds was a mark he hit two times all of last season (high – 17 vs. IND 4/3/11), included eight offensive boards, something he did twice last year (12 vs. TOR 1/17/11 and 8 at LAL 3/27/11).
- Last season, Okafor had 23 double-doubles in 72 games and grabbed 10+ rebounds 35 times in all...he also had four 15/15 games and two 20 point/10 rebound performances.

DEFENSE RETURNS In the season opening win in Phoenix against the Suns, the defense that coach Monty Williams and his staff hung their hat on in 2010-11 was again evident in frustrating a potent Suns team.

OH, SHOOT Missing key offensive cog Eric Gordon to a bruised knee, the Hornets have struggled shooting the ball in their past two games 12/30 vs. PHX and 1/1 at SAC.

- Against the Suns, New Orleans was held to 26-90 shooting from the field (28.9%), the lowest percentage in franchise history...the 64 missed field goals did allow the Hornets to collect an NBA season-high 24 offensive caroms.
- Marco Belinelli set a career high with 10 rebounds against the Suns (previous high was nine at CHI 3/7/11)...Belinelli also tied his career mark (vs. HOU 12/12/08) with three offensive rebounds in the game.
- In Sacramento, the Bees went 0-15 from beyond the arc, their worst shooting performance from long-range in franchise history...the previous franchise low for threes attempted without a make was 13 vs. DEN 11/16/05...the last time the Hornets had not made a here in a game before the 1st was against Chicago 3/14/09.

LANDRY IN THE LINEUP Carl Landry has made the most of being named the starting power forward in this, his fourth NBA season.

- Landry currently leads the Hornets in total points (63), offensive rebounds (18) and free throws made (15).
- 12/28 vs. BOS, Landry scored 20 points and grabbed 11 rebounds in 29:16 of play, becoming just the third Hornet since the team moved to New Orleans in 2002 to record a 20/10 game in fewer than 30 minutes...the late Robert Traylor (20/10 in 22 minutes vs. ATL '03) and Jamaal Magloire (23/14 in 29 minutes at WAS '04) are the others.
- As a starter last season (26 games between SAC and NOH), he averaged 14.3 points, 5.9 rebounds (2.8 off. rpg) and 31.5 minutes per game.
- Prior to this season, Landry had made 54 career starts – averaging 16.2 points and 6.2 rebounds in 34.3 minutes per game...in starts, he has hit on 346-of-685 (.505) from the field.
- After taking over the starting slot for the injured David West (10 games) last season, Landry is averaged a team-best 14.9 points with 5.6 rebounds on 51.8% shooting in 32.7 minutes per game.
- In 28 starts for SAC in 2009-10, Landry averaged 18.0 points and 6.5 rebounds per game, hitting on 52.0% from the field.
- In 2009-10, Landry averaged 5.6 points in the fourth quarter- ranking him 10th in the NBA.

BALANCE, BALANCE, BALANCE The 2011-12 season began 12/26 at PHX with a balanced offensive attack that included six players reaching double figures: Eric Gordon (20), Carl Landry (14), Trevor Ariza (13) and Marco Belinelli, Chris Kaman and Greivis Vasquez all with 10 points each...as a follow-up to the season opening performance, five Hornets reached the 10-point mark in the home season opener 12/28 vs. BOS led by Jarrett Jack's 21 and Carl Landry's 20...the others were Belinelli and Emeka Okafor (13) and Chris Kaman (12)...Kaman has now scored in double-figures in both of his games coming off the bench this season...so far this year, seven different Hornets have reached the double-digit plateau.

ANOTHER STRONG START After going 2-0 in the preseason, the Hornets are now 2-1 in the regular season...New Orleans got off to a franchise-best 8-0 start a season ago, the first under head coach Monty Williams...with the win 12/28 vs. Boston, Williams became the first head coach in franchise history to start his first two campaigns 2-0...he is also the first coach to win the home season opener in his first two seasons at the helm...Williams is now 48-37 as head coach of the Bees, with a .565 overall winning percentage.

SOLD OUT 17,802 New Orleans fans packed the Hive on opening night 12/28 against the Celtics, a sellout crowd that witnessed a 19-point drubbing of the Eastern Conference foes...the Hornets had nine sellouts in 2010-11, with a high of 18,437 in addition to selling out all three home playoff games.

10,000 SEASON TICKETS The New Orleans Hornets sold more than 10,000 season tickets for the 2011-12 season, including selling the most new season tickets in the NBA since June...this strong demonstration of community commitment to the long-term presence of the NBA team in New Orleans is all the more remarkable because it was achieved in the midst of significant uncertainty regarding team ownership and a labor work stoppage...the Hornets pursuit of 10,000 season tickets was initiated in February as the team began its infamous "I'm In" campaign, which included appearances and public support from Governor Jindal and Mayor Landrieu...the campaign included grassroots marketing, electronic billboards, radio and TV advertising and, most importantly, the unprecedented "100 Events in 100 Days: I'm In, Are You?" initiative.

SAINTS/HORNETS CONNECTION When Eric Gordon heard he was coming to New Orleans, he knew he had a couple of Super Bowl Champion friends that could share some tips on life in the Big Easy...Gordon went to the same high school and college as Courtney Roby of the Saints and attended Indiana University with Tracey Porter.

EVERY HORNETS GAME IS ON TV! For the first time in franchise history, Hornets fans will have an opportunity to watch every single game this season. CST will broadcast 65 regular season games, while TNT will broadcast the lone non-CST game (4/24 at GSW).

NATIVE SON Hornets rookie point guard Carldeell 'Squeaky' Johnson hails from New Orleans...in his rookie season, Johnson is now the seventh active NBA player to be born in the state of Louisiana joining D.J. Augustin (Bobcats), Paul Millsap (Jazz), Brandon Bass (Celtics), Tyrus Thomas (Bobcats), Greg Monroe (Pistons) and Thaddeus Young (76ers).

FILLING SOME BIG SHOES In the two games he started last season (3/7 at CHI, 3/9 vs. DAL), Jarrett Jack averaged a team-best 22.0 ppg on 42.1% from the field (16-of-38)...he has also hit on 11-of-12 FT (91.7%) and averaged 5.0 rebounds and 5.0 assists per game...he scored 23 points (3/7 at CHI) and 21 points (3/9 vs. DAL), respectively...against DAL, Jack finished with 21 points, seven assists, six rebounds and just two turnovers – the FIRST game of his career he hit those numbers, while also dishing out two or fewer turnovers.

PERFECT PRESEASON The Hornets went 2-0 in the 2011-12 preseason, but then shot out of the gate to a franchise-best 8-0 start to the season

- The Hornets evened their all-time preseason record against the Grizzlies at 2-2 after meeting the franchise for the first time in the preseason last year and falling twice, once at home and once on the road.
- In the only other lockout-shortened NBA preseason (1999) the Hornets went 0-2, losing games on back-to-back nights to the Atlanta Hawks...the two teams played 1/29/99 at the Charlotte Coliseum in North Carolina and then met again less than 24 hours later in Atlanta.
- The Hornets are 79-97 (.448) all-time in the preseason including 66-58 (.532) at home.

2010-11 REGULAR SEASON NOTES

TEAM STREAKS/NOTES

- New Orleans' defense improved more than any team last season, down a league-leading 8.1 ppg.
- With the 3/6/11 win at CLE, the Hornets registered their 37th win of the season – tying their win total for the 2009-10 season (37-45).
- The Hornets ranked first in the NBA in points given up off turnovers (14.56).
- The Hornets won their 900th game as a franchise 2/11/11 at ORL.
- The Hornets finished the season 46-36.
- The Hornets held opponents to 90 or fewer points 28 times (24-4).
- The Hornets were 25-6 when holding opponents under 100 points at home last season.
- Dating back to the 2006-07 season, the Hornets have won 19 of their last 26 overtime games.
- The Hornets played six overtime games last year...the Hornets were 4-2 in overtime games last year...New Orleans was 3-3 in OT games in '09-10.
- The Hornets had a home crowd of 18,426 2/5/11 vs. LAL – the largest regular season crowd at the Hive last season...it was the highest attendance post-Hurricane Katrina.

WE'RE IN! 2011 PLAYOFFS With a 101-93 win over Houston on 4/6, the Hornets clinched a berth in the 2011 playoffs.

- The victory clinched a postseason berth for the Hornets, the third time in four seasons and fifth time since moving to New Orleans that the franchise had participated in the playoffs.
- It marked the Hornets' 12th playoff appearance in franchise history.
- Monty Williams became the third first-year head coach to qualify for the playoffs in franchise history (Dave Cowens, 1996-97; Tim Floyd, 2003-04).

MONTH-BY-MONTH Below is a month-by-month look at the Hornets in 2010-11.

BEE-FENSE Below are a few notes about the Hornets defensive efforts from 2010-11:

- The Hornets were FIFTH in the NBA for fewest points allowed (94.9 ppg)...the Hornets allowed 102.7 ppg last season.
- The Hornets forced 14.54 opponent turnovers per game and averaged 16.37 points off of those miscues.
- New Orleans limited opponents to 45.7 percent shooting, while averaging 45.9 percent from the field on the offensive end.
- The Hornets allowed opponents 10.49 second-chance points per game after allowing 13.3 second-chance points during the 2009-10 season...the Hornets ranked first in the NBA in fewest second-chance points allowed per game.
- The Hornets gave up 11.73 fastbreak points per game – the fourth fewest in the NBA.
- The Hornets ranked among the best in the league in a number of defensive categories including fewest points (4th – 94.9), defensive field goal percentage (13th - .457), defensive three-point field goal percentage (12th -.357), rebounds per game (3rd – 39.34) and offensive rebounds allowed (1st- 9.38).

HORNETS LIKE THE HIVE The Hornets were 28-13 at home last season, and had an 18-23 mark away from the New Orleans Arena...below is a chart comparing the Hornets' performances at home and away from the Hive.

BUSY BEES

A Look at the Hornets' Off-season

MAKING CHANGES: The Hornets have been one of the most active teams in this season's condensed free agency period. New Orleans goes into the 2011-12 campaign with only six returning players from the 2010-11 roster and nine new players, while Emeka Okafor (two years) is the longest-tenured Hornet and only remaining member of the roster inherited by Dell Demps and his staff when they took the helm in the summer of 2010. Below is a timeline of the Hornets' off-season:

June 23, 2011	Trade the rights to center Jonathan Harrelson (45 th overall pick in the 2011 NBA Draft) to the New York Knicks for financial considerations.
June 27, 2011	David West declines player option for the 2011-12 season and becomes a free agent.
June 30, 2011	Extend qualifying offer to guard Marco Belinelli for the 2011-12 season.
July 7, 2011	Reigning NBA D-League champion Iowa Energy named new Hornets D-League affiliate.
August 2, 2011	Dave Hanners named assistant coach...Randy Ayers named lead assistant coach.
December 9, 2011	Hornets sign nine free agents (Brian Butch, Justin Dentmon, Jerome Dyson, Moses Ehambe, Carldele Johnson, Trey Johnson, DaJuan Summers, Trey Johnson and Terrico White) to training camp roster.
December 13, 2011	Marco Belinelli signs qualifying offer...waive forward Patrick Ewing Jr.
December 14, 2011	Acquire forward Al-Farouq Aminu, guard Eric Gordon, center Chris Kaman and the more favorable of the 2012 first round picks between the Los Angeles Clippers and Minnesota Timberwolves from the Clippers in exchange for guard Chris Paul and two 2015 2 nd round picks.
December 17, 2011	Re-sign forwards Carl Landry and Jason Smith to multi-year contracts...waive Justin Dentmon, Terrico White and Moses Ehambe.
December 19, 2011	Waive forward David Andersen.
December 23, 2011	Sign forward/center Gustavo Ayon...waive center Brian Butch.
December 24, 2011	Acquire G Greivis Vasquez from the Memphis Grizzlies for F Quincy Pondexter...waive G Jerome Dyson.
December 31, 2011	Waive F Lance Thomas.

Dell Demps ▪ Senior Vice President and General Manager

- On July 21, 2010, Dell Demps was named the seventh general manager in Hornets history. It is Demps' first stint as general manager of an NBA franchise.
- Demps joined the Spurs at the start of the 2005-06 season as director of pro player personnel and was promoted to Vice President of Basketball Operations in 2010. In addition to his duties with the Spurs, Demps was named general manager of the Toros when they were first purchased by the Spurs in June 2007.
- With the Spurs, Demps won an NBA Championship (2007) and two divisional titles (2006, 2009). In each of the last five seasons that he was with San Antonio, the Spurs won at least 50 games.
- Demps had the opportunity to play in the NBA for Golden State (1993-94), San Antonio (1995-96) and Orlando (1996-97), as well as playing professionally in the Philippines, France, Greece, Turkey, Croatia and Venezuela during his 10-year career.

- During his professional playing career, each summer he returned to Pacific to take MBA courses. When Demps suffered a season-ending shoulder injury in 1998, he returned to Pacific and completed his MBA.
- At Pacific, Demps was a four-year starter, earning All-Big West honors three times. After completing his MBA, Demps became a member of Pacific's Eberhardt School of Business Advisory Board. He was also elected to the Pacific Athletics Hall of Fame in 2003.
- Demps, a native of the San Francisco Bay Area and his wife, Anita, have three sons, Jourdan (21), Tre (18), and Riley (11). Jourdan attends the University of Texas-San Antonio and Tre is in his freshman year playing basketball at Northwestern University. Riley is great student-athlete that excels in football and basketball. Anita is a 1998 graduate of Pacific's McGeorge School of Law.
